HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. E. Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used
It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily operated It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless rides It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new fastening ourselves and recommend its use in all cases We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent hereto fore considered the best in use

A letter from Edward W Tullidge one of the apostles of Mormon reform and a leader of the Reform movement in the Mormon Church on the causes of the pending trouble among the Salt Lake saints says the people have been reduced to a temporal bondage by the power of Brigham Young and the spirituality of Mormonism has died out of the Church The reformers propose to revive these spiritual doctrines They war against Brigham Young's policy but not against himself

In the Superior Court of Lawrence Massachusetts the case of George F Godson and Annie H Godson and Charles H Lowell and Sarah E Lowell arraigned on a charge of wife and husband swapping, a pro forma verdict of guilty was rendered by the jury Godson and Lowell resided in Amesbury and exchanged wives with the free assent of Mrs Godson and Mrs Lowell and they were married at the same time They lived together before any one interfered satisfactorily

Senator Brownlow has arrived in Washington and is said to be much better than he was last winter He keeps on living just to spite his enemies Last winter he called a friend of ours to his seat in the Senate and in his usual asthmatic whisper said Young man you wonder why I sit here, in my state of health I'll tell you. If I didn't come here some —— rascal would be sent in my place So he has kept on living from his bye laws, his constitution having gone years ago

From Paris and from London we receive simultaneously two views on American finances, set forth by great organs of opinion in those cities Apropos to our Treasury report, the Paris Soir says "An American promise is equivalent to its fulfilment." Apropos to the same report the London Times growls out a remembrance of State repudiation, and mumbles a fear that we shall never pay The financial man of the Times will never forgive us for our success in putting down the rebellion

The New York Herald keeps account of the fires reported in different parts of the country only including those where the loss is over $20 000, except in New York city where all are recorded It makes out that the losses so far this year eleven months have been $36,384 000 or over $5 000,000 a month Adding the losses by the numerous fires where the value of property destroyed is less than $20,000 and it is not too much to estimate the annual loss to the country by fires at fifty millions of dollars

While machinery has been for a long time in use in most other branches of manufacture, until quite recently cigars have been made altogether by hand, the process requiring a skill which can be attained only by two or three years apprenticeship At length a machine has been devised which can be operated by girls after a few weeks' practice, and which performs the whole work of shaping the cigar, putting on the binding leaf and wrapper and finishing the head much more thoroughly and neatly than can be done by hand The apparatus is a very simple one

For sleeping at his post after forty eight hours of successive duty Antoine Rudolphe a sailor on board the storeship Guard, during her recent voyage from Lisbon to New York, was strapped to the mizzenmast for eight days without being once untied, and kept all the time on a scanty allowance of bread and water This was done in violation of the articles of war which expressly forbid longer confinement than three days without trial unless the offence be a capital one It is understood the officer responsible for this cruel action will be brought before a naval court-martial

A Fenian of a very pronounced type has been elected to the British House of Commons His name is O Donovan Rossa and the constituency which returned him is Tipperary The new member of Parliament is not only a Fenian but a convict— remarkable we believe, says the Spectator among his fellow prisoners only for the violence with which he has conduced himself since he was immured The Fenians in the district threatened to shoot any one who voted against their man and the consequence was that two thirds thought prudence the better part of valor and stayed away from the polls

Mr Colfax's article on the Mormons in last week's Independent is the most full and thorough yet complete statement of the case as an argument and appeal for governmental action that has yet been put before the country He breaks down very effectually the Mormon argument after clearly because of their religious and tolerant so because of their past persecutions by showing that the so called persecutions were for other matters than the religious and that polygamy is more than a supplement to the late Utah speech It repudiates the best points and ratifies them and makes many new ones against the Mormon pretensions

SANDWICH ISLANDS

By the Ajax we have the Honolulu Advertiser of the 11th ult We learn from its columns that the discussion of the Chinese immigration question is still being discussed warmly The Advertiser takes side against it on the ground that the Chinese exert a baneful moral influence upon the native population

We lay the sandy to heart The ship Mary Ann Captain Crosby of Brewster's Line from Hong Kong arrived in Honolulu the 12th inst 5 days from Boston with a very light cargo of merchandise

The ship Addison 21 days from Puget Sound with lumber for Honolulu and sailed the next day

Three other whaling fleet arrivals were reported except the Addison which left for Honolulu and all the vessels are relying on England for their supplies

THE WEST

The Wahoo Herald of the Missouri Valley Farmer has secured the transfer of the New York Herald at about 1000 per pound for beef packed at Omaha through the produce Texas cattle Trade from Chicago has also taken a wide route through China

Professor Agassiz in passing through the country from Boston to San Francisco collected specimens of fishes and reptiles Total weight 1000 pounds

A new feature of discomfort to be met in Chicago is the exorbitant charges for hackmen's services Some of the hackmen charge $5 for a ride of a few blocks

The Chicago Republican says that the people of Salt Lake City are to be deported because Mr Colfax intends to see for himself what is the condition of affairs there

In Minnesota farmers are heavily in debt for land farm machinery, and other supplies and creditors are crowding them up sharp To add to their hardships the railroad company has taken advantage of their necessities and put up freights enormously high exceeding forty cents per bushel from some points in Minnesota

The Jacksonville Journal has this picture of the saloons in Jacksonville Seven saloons in one continuous line on the west side of North Main street within less than one block Fifty saloons to Jacksonville defying the citizens of Jacksonville defying the City Council defying the law defying justice defying Almighty God

Mrs A N St Clair arrived at St Joseph Mo on the 30th ult on her travels through the territories and across the continent in her own carriage having completed a journey of 12 000 miles 4 000 of which were made in her own carriage visiting all of California Oregon and Washington Territory and British Columbia Her daughter who projected this journey died at Salt Lake in January last.

In Alabama the demand for lands especially on lease is now greater than at any time since the close of the war One tract containing 500 acres which rented last year for $1 000, is leased for 1870 at $1 700 Another which was rented last year for twenty five cents an acre will command one dollar and sixty cents an acre for the coming year Other instances are given of lands renting for from $2 to $5 an acre

The Union Pacific Railroad increased its earnings $298 893 in October and reduced its expenses $91 156 from those of September, making a difference of $207,725 nearly 50 per cent. in the net revenue which was $540 346 Since Col G C Hammond assumed the superintendence of the road, four months ago, he has reduced its floating debt from $1 178 182 to $9 982 which the earnings of about eight hours would effectually wipe out

Cairo Ill at the junction of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers was formerly a swampy Peninsula but is now the site of a city with 12,000 inhabitants Long and wide embankments prevent the annual overflow of the waters and foundries saw mills and manufactories of all kinds are in active operation Churches public school buildings, hotels railroad depots and county court houses are now seen where thirty years ago nothing was in sight but a dreary wilderness of woods

It is a little paradoxical but still it is true that the people of California manufacture more native wine and import more foreign wine than the same population in any other part of the United States Either they drink more than the same number of people elsewhere which is probably true or they are saving up their own wine to make headache for other people, which is also probably true. Four wine cellars in San Francisco now contain 675 000 gallons of California wine and a fifth has 80 000 bottles of sparkling wines. Six months ago 40 000 cases of foreign champagne arrived in San Francisco within seventy days and the wine merchants dispute that $2 000 000 have been expended on the Pacific coast in the purchase of foreign wines within the year

GEORGIA RECONSTRUCTED.—An important bill on reconstruction is formally moved in the words of General Butler to some Virginia gentlemen

Congress will compel Georgia to keep her plighted faith Georgia it will be remembered adopted a constitution as a republican in form as the most extreme radical could desire, giving the colored man all political rights &c., and on said basis was readmitted to the Union Once in the Union and feeling her dignity as a sovereign State over the local affairs of which under the constitution as it was, Congress could have no control—Georgia quickly kicked the colored man down from his high pedestal and declared that he should not sit in the Legislature. In all this as we have said she acted under the constitution as it was fighting in the new constitution the ever looming words as to appropriate legislation These words give Congress an absolute power over this matter in Georgia as it could have in the District of Columbia and no doubt the power will be asserted in all its force These are the words of the fourteenth amendment—

No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States nor shall any State deprive any person of life liberty or property without due process of law nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws

Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article

The fifteenth amendment with these words The right of citizens of the United States to vote and hold office shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race color or previous condition of servitude

Congress has the power to enforce by appropriate legislation all its acts in relation to all subjects that can be brought under that amendment so far as all such subjects Congress is the supreme law making power What is to be done in the case of Georgia may give to the States at large a new alarm to the position pursued in the operation of the amendment Ed Mail

FROM WYOMING.—This is the way the Wyoming Tribune exhilarates with quadruple leads and gushing headlines over the passage and approval by the Governor of the Woman Suffrage bill

Wyoming from her rocky eyrie sends greeting to the aged Sister States and invites them to come up higher Here on that advanced post of the question of human rights which she seems disposed to occupy

Forgetting heathenish prejudices arising from race or sex she invites them to stand with her upon the skirmish line of civilization The Genius of liberty is a picket duty Wyoming Already the advancing skirmisher has been challenged and rejoined to by the cheering echo of the replies Human rights equally before the law which the reptilian rose nds the cotton gin in vain protest passes on Pass on a better and nobler and more vibrant on Pass on Let the other wheels of mankind shall be politics or generals and stand upon an equal plane as they will be to the throne of God

A DESPERATE ENCOUNTER.—A young man in Bangor in New York went to see his sweetheart the night and when he started for home he found his sleigh tipped over and his horse gone. Not being lame he made his way to a neighboring house and found the horse there. He had just left when he overtook him and asked him if he had seen anything of his horse. He said he had not seen a horse but he had seen a man with a sleigh and a horse and he was walking behind him. He took the horse and sleigh and went back to the house where he had left his sweetheart and found her there. He took her home and married her.

RAILROAD TO ASIA.—The Western Pacific Railroad Company are constructing a telegraph line from the Sandwich Islands to San Francisco. At present the railroad company have to rely upon the Western Union Company for messages through common cable by telegraph while the city. When the work at present under contract is completed it is understood that the railroad line will be opened for general business through to Omaha. May we not then hope for a large reduction in the tariff of overland messages? Cal. Times.

At a regular meeting of Olympia Lodge No 1, A F & A M, on Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing Masonic year Dr Rufus Willard, W. M., Robert Frost, S. W., J J Gilbert, J W, C E Williams, Treasurer, J H Munson, Secretary Dr. A. H Steele, S. D Benjamin Harned, J. D., A. Farquhar, Tyler.

The New England Society recently held in Olympia Hall at one o'clock P. M., on Wednesday last, the 22d inst and elected the following officers to serve the ensuing year: President, J. Cushman; Vice Presidents, Mr. Gates, Gen. Alex. Mc Lean, Geo A Meigs, O F Gerrish, Secretary, Col. B S Pardee Treasurer E L. Smith. The Society then adjourned to Columbia Hall, where the finest dinner we have ever participated in, north of the Columbia river was served. After dinner came toasts and responses, the intervals being filled with lively music discoursed by the Olympia Brass Band The ball in the evening was [illegible] all who attended it to be the most brilliant ever given in the place. There were as many as sixteen sets (forty-four couples) on the floor at one time. The Hall was decorated in a most beautiful manner, fully sustaining the world-wide reputation of the Yankee for taste and ingenuity.

Foreign Policy of the Government.

From the New York Tribune

We regard the policy of the Administration in reference to foreign powers as entirely unexceptionable. It entitles the President and his advisers to the hearty confidence and approval of the whole country We have [illegible] stood in so good a position toward European powers as at this moment, and this advantage has not been purchased by the surrender of any principles or issues with which our name is identified.

We may go much further than this, and affirm that the President has been a more faithful exponent of national policy on foreign affairs than we have had at the head of the Government for some years past His course has [illegible] firm, while at the same time it is temperate and inoffensive No one would expect Gen Grant as a matter of courtesy to give any away which he believed the [illegible] to be concerned, but it is equally certain that of him that he does not wantonly provoke quarrels. That is a foreign policy which is apply described in the words "peaceful and manly," and which will secure great protections on the score of state sovereignty have been known to pursue it. The President has been guided by a [illegible] Duke, for instance, in his position towards Russia. He says enough to convince the British Ministry that our Government fully shares the sentiments of the people He will not allow that [illegible] us by Great Britain during the war to be cured by a mere money standard, and stop it for by the payment of a certain number of pounds sterling Our injured, he says, "could not be adjusted and satisfied according to [illegible] claims which continually arise between [illegible] nations" If we [illegible] Mr. Rose [illegible] son failed to appreciate the distinction that his treaty broke down. A similar spirit will [illegible] be committed with General Grant at the head of the Government. He is jealous of our national honor and will exact that just deference to it which Great Britain has not always been willing to pay. If English statesmen sincerely desire to [illegible] for the mistakes of the past, they must draw nearer to the President's stand-point than they have hitherto appeared willing to do.

With reference again, to Cuba, the Government has pursued an [illegible] course. The President considers that as "the United States is the first of all nations," it [illegible] as always to act with conformity with strict justice and law, international and local." We cannot entirely concur on the one hand of wishing mischievous precedents on the other, by obeying our natural instincts to assist all peoples struggling under oppression We cannot make a law for [illegible] The policy recognized among nations is that which we are bound to follow, and we must abide by it for the sake of others as for the sake of our own good and future dealings with the world. The President does, however, express an earnest hope that not only Spain, but England also, will eventually retrace their [illegible] on this continent and leave them to govern themselves Here, again, he is a faithful representative of the national [illegible] When, too, he declines to allow any European Power to exercise the right of landing an ocean cable on their shores and afterward claim a monopo

TUESDAY MORNING DECEMBER 28 1869

Columbia Branch Railroad

We have received a copy of Senator Williams bill introduced in the Senate on the 6th inst. granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the Columbia river to Great Salt Lake. The following named persons are made the incorporators D W Ballard I F Caples J Lewis H S J K McBride H L Riggs D Gerrish B M Duffield, John Hailey, I J Butler I S Wilson, W D Bigelow C S Miller J McConnigle T M Megrill and Jonas Brown of Idaho Territory L O Sterns F W McClary A H Brown J H Shinn J W Virtue C M Foster, B M Stanton Thomas Wright, C M. Cochran J Hendershott D Chapin, Green Arnold J R Wilkinson James H Slater, L W. Lichtenthaler, J W Fisk, H. J Meacham, John White, William Barnhart, H C. Page, James M Leezer, W C Franklin, J W. Swift M E Folsom, William Luce F C Horseley, B Whitton, W B Rinehart, J G Wilson, C M Lockwood, N Gates, B Pentland, H Hogue, O Humason, B. W. Mitchell, L. E Dennell, and A. W. Ferguson, of Oregon, and D Baker, J M Vansyckle, A. Cox, Hugh D O Bryant, and W Wright, of Washington Territory.

The road is to begin at some point on the Columbia river, east of the Cascade mountains, thence to run through Idaho, and to terminate at some point on the Union or Central Pacific railroads, near Great Salt Lake. The capital stock authorized to be $30,000,000, divided into 300,000 shares of $100 each. The first meeting of the Board of Commissioners—the corporators—will be held at Baker City, Oregon, on the first day of September, 1870. Books for subscriptions of stock shall be opened within six months from the passage of the act. A meeting of Stockholders and an organization of a Board of Directors is to be held so soon as ten thousand shares shall be subscribed in good faith and five per cent. of the stock paid into the treasury of the Company. The bill grants the right of way through, and gives the right to take construction material from, the public lands. The land subsidy offered is twenty sections per mile on each side, in alternate sections, not taking mineral lands, and the grant is of the title in fee simple. In lieu of lands already disposed of, the company may select other lands, within thirty miles on either side of the line. Patents are to issue for lands only as sections of twenty miles shall be completed, stocked and formally accepted in the usual way. The President is directed to cause a survey to be made, of forty miles on each side of the route, as soon as it shall be located, and all the lands designated—the odd-numbered sections—are to be withheld from sale or pre-emption. All the other lands within the survey are to be subject to the pre-emption act of Sept. 4th, 1841, and the acts amendatory thereof, and to the homestead act of May, 1862; but such lands shall not be sold by the government for a less price than two dollars and fifty cents per acre. As to right of way through lands of settlers, all matters of right, of damages to the property and work settlers to be settled by the awards of Commissioners to be appointed by any court of record, upon application of either party, such awards, however, being subject to appeal. Other provisions of similar import are provided for in the usual way. The company accepting the grant and terms of the bill, is to commence the work within two years from the approval of the act by the President and to complete not less than twenty miles per year after the second year, and to complete, equip, and furnish the entire road by the 4th day of July, 1876. The road when completed is to be a post route and military road, subject to the use of the United States for postal, military, and naval and all other government service. The passance of the grant must be made by the company within two years of the passage of the act.

The bill will probably pass both houses and become a law during the present session, the only opposition likely to arise being as to the manner of conferring the subsidy of lands.

Personal Notes.

On a recent trip from Albany to Corvallis, the editor of the Mercury was charged with the regular fare "one dollar." The same issue of the paper which contains this important announcement, also has several paragraphs abusive and derogatory of the P. T. Co. Does the one fact account for the other?

The aggregate sum of money involved in the various Indian treaties now pending before the Senate is said to be $15,000,000. The House committee on Indian Affairs has agreed to report a bill to abolish the treaty system altogether, and Mr. Harlan, Chairman of the Senate Committee has agreed to support it.

As we expected, the Democratic papers of this State, strongly disapprove the appointment of Edwin M. Stanton to the Supreme bench. His sterling integrity and great services to his country while these Democratic editors were doing what they could in behalf of the rebellion, very naturally brought down upon him their dislike, and they seem not to have got over it yet.

In his annual report, the Commissioner of the General Land Office refers to the recent expansion of railways as one of our national necessities. The liberal policy of land and loan subventions by the Government was the groundwork for this prosperous movement, but the Commissioner thinks the time for such extraordinary assistance has passed and recommends its withdrawal.

Woman's suffrage conventions are becoming remarkably numerous of late in Eastern States. We notice however, that in the published reports of proceedings and discussions—there have been no debates—free love divorce laws, and kindred subjects have so monopolized the attention of the fair amazons that the question of suffrage is mentioned but rarely and then only as if it were an incidental question of no particular importance. It is perhaps needless to say that the Richardson-McFarland affair has come in for its full share of comment.

The English papers are still excited about the Suez canal. The completion of it contradicts all their predictions as to engineering possibilities and is a defeat of English statesmanship. They are now engaged in a lively discussion to show that the final difficulties connected with its use will be such as to render its existence practically worthless, but strange to say the widest of them have thus far overlooked the little key hole so ingeniously put forth a short time since. They will be immensely consoled no doubt, when their attention shall be called to what the bugs are doing.

Mr Sargent, member of Congress from California on the 8th inst. introduced a joint resolution in the House to suppress and put a stop to the Coast Duel. It was passed in the Senate on the 11th. It was introduced in February last by Secretary Mitchell on behalf of the United States, to John R Buckbee and Henry F Williams for a term of twenty five years. Mr Hooper and other members of the Committee of Ways and Means who were out here last summer supported the resolution and it was adopted. It goes by the Pacific mail steamer of Saturday next.

American Inventions

THE BREECH-LOADING ARMS AND MACHINERY

From the New York Tribune Dec

It is a fact exceedingly gratifying to the pride of every true American that American inventive and manufacturing are to day supplying the Old World with many of its best implements. In the matter of improved fire arms we are so far ahead of the nations of Europe that many of them are sending large orders to our manufacturers and where they have attempted to get them up themselves they have almost invariably adopted American inventions. The Snider alteration of the Enfield, in England was an American invention the Henry Martin is but a very slight modification of the Peabody gun and the Swiss gun is the Winchester (formerly known as the Henry) magazine rifle altered very much for the worse. At the various trials abroad the American guns have invariably come out ahead and the English ammunition has failed as I am told it has in actual service in the Abyssinian campaign. The Remington rifle was adopted by the French Government in 1866 and was subsequently altered. I dream of the death of Napoleon Christ for did he not have a part in the Resurrection of the dead? He leaves an accomplished and extensive circle of friends to mourn his departure from this world. It was his request while in health as well as in his death bed to have read at his funeral the 20th chapter of St. John, accompanied with an appropriate hymn and prayer which was done.

Unfavorable Aspect of the Cuban Question In Congress

[From the N Y Herald Dec 20

WASHINGTON, Dec 19.—At the late dinner party given by Governor Swann to the fellow members of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs last evening, the question of Cuba was the main subject of conversation. It was brought up by an incidental reference of one of the gentlemen present to the allusion to Cuba in the President's Message. From the interchange of opinion that took place, it seems that all the members of the committee Democrats as well as Republicans, are opposed to any action at present especially anything like urging the President to accord belligerent rights to the Cubans. Gen Banks, the Chairman of the committee was not present not having returned from Europe but it is thought his influence would not be sufficient, even if he were here to overcome the members of the committee so as to get them to favor Cuba. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations is divided on the subject. Mr Sumner, its Chairman, is more determined than ever in his opposition to the recognition of the insurgents. His position has been greatly strengthened by the tone of the President's Message on foreign affairs, for whatever interpretation other persons may put upon the President's language towards Cuba, Mr Sumner thinks it decidedly against them, or rather against their recognition, which is the same thing. General Cameron, the second member on the committee, is friendly to the Cubans, and is doing all he can in a quiet way, to get their case before the public, so that it may have a fair hearing. His resolution referred today calling for information from the President with regard to the progress of the revolution will be a step for bringing out something which may lead to convincing Senators than it has been. Secretary Fish that the Cuban cause has assumed such a shape as to entitle it to attention from our Government. Senators Morton and Schurz are also understood to be favorable to the Cubans but Harlan Patterson and Cassedy are said to be with Sumner though open to argument and conviction.

CITY.

A fine Spaniel.—The following letter written by a man near Corvallis to a person in this city, explains itself. It is a fair sample of the letters received by the Humane Society, and proves the terrible consequences of a single act of cruelty. We hope the publication of this letter will demonstrate the folly of such acts, and be the way of the transgressor. Let us hear no more of the bitterness of heart and sorrow that can be gathered from the following letter. We omit names.

CITY.

A BAD STORY.—The following letter written by a resident living in Oregon and not a hundred miles from Portland, to her husband whom she has left for a villain, goes to prove the terrible results of such a step and demonstrates the truth of the old saying that, "the way of the transgressor is hard." Some idea of the bitterness of the anguish can be gathered from the letter but we suppress names.

Dec. 1, 1869.

My much loved and injured husband: No doubt you will be surprised and greatly astonished when you get this; but dear husband, I must write to you. I must write to you and tell you from you. Not that I can expect you to forgive me. Oh! would to God that I could expect it. I would be so happy. I pray to God every day to be forgiven; but I fear there is no hope for me. I pray for one who has so basely lied, deceived and bereaved so noble a husband as I once had. Yes, I loved another better than I did you; but, alas! that too late, my mistake, and have been the cause of what I am now, a poor miserable, homeless outcast of the world; and not only that, but have caused so much trouble where I should have made happiness; crushed the hearts of one of the noblest husband and mother as ever breathed. I tried to conquer this evil that was working within me, but it got the best of me and dragged me down to the most wretched of beings.

I am not pleading for an excuse, beloved husband. Oh would to God, I had some excuse, but I do confess that I have none. Without provocation or provocation I have fallen low, very low, but that I fear I can never rise. But I would try, if I thought there was hope. The Bible says, "repent and you shall be forgiven, so I shall be forgiven, for God has promised every day, every hour and moment since I left my home and loved ones. Oh, when I left you, and since, I could never trouble you again, or let you know my troubles, no matter how great; but I will not. Do what you will, dear husband, you have more of me and my misery. I will not act rashly; but for God's sake, for your own sake and for me, and for the sake, to the utmost extent, sympathize with me. I have to forgive so great a crime, but I pray you write to me, write to one who has wronged you, but who still loves you and always will, no matter how it ends. I love you and our darling children. I know you will not let them forget their mother as long as she is. A mother's love is unlike that of my own poor mother who would fain to see me to be a good wife and mother, a noble husband and lovely children, but she could never when she loved me the best I ever done anything for me. Oh, will you write? I fear not. But do write me a letter of reproach and curses. I will tell you all if you will let me. Oh, will my prayers be rejected. Oh, will my prayers be rejected. If so, I will die happy. Do let me hear from you. Kiss our darling children, press them around them, and keep them and God.

Your much loved but greatly injured

Fallen but heartbroken

DEATH.—John Axtell, a native of Lancaster, Ohio, but for a number of years a resident of Yamhill and Oregon, died very suddenly at the New York Hotel, in this city, yesterday noon. He had lately been working on the East Side Railroad, and quit work on it in Portland on Friday. Yesterday morning he was around town with a cough, complaining some, was not confined to his bed, having been up from room with a dipper of the house. About 11 o'clock he was in the room of the hotel above named, when he started to leave the room, and walked about 15 feet toward the door, but fell down in a pitiful manner and asked to be helped to go after a doctor. He then stepped on the sidewalk and the blood began to flow from his mouth and nostrils in copious quantities. A physician was sent for, but before he arrived he died, partly drowning in very fast flowing blood, occasioned flowing from the larger blood vessels had burst, and death was inevitable. The coroner was called and held an inquest over the body, the jury returning a verdict in accordance with the facts above stated. Axtell, who has known the deceased for years, we learn that he has a family living about twenty-five miles from Toledo, Ohio, but had no relatives on this coast. His age was probably about 38 years. He was esteemed by those acquainted with him as a straightforward, sober and industrious man.

PAY DAY.—Yesterday was pay day for the men employed on the East side railroad, and many of them were in the city to spend their money. We learn that about ten thousand dollars were disbursed at the office of the company in Portland yesterday. The road will be discontinued at present, owing to the bad weather, and a large number are left without any present employment. Many of them will naturally come to the city during the rest of the winter, having money now and enough to rest on, but when employment can be had we are sorry that so many are exposed to enter upon a course of life by which their hard earnings will be soon be brought to nothing.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.—Hugh McLaughlin, who was arrested yesterday evening and desires us to state that the erroneous idea was conveyed by his name appeared yesterday that he has been, since his residence in this city, at the time, engaged in a legitimate business, and at present, working to support a family who are at school with the children in this city. That his name has appeared in connection with any disreputable affair whatever, and he feels grateful to the gentlemen who has seen fit to release him from the charge.

ARRESTED.—The man McLaughlin, charged with assaulting a woman on Yamhill street on Saturday night, was arrested yesterday morning at a house in the northern part of the city. He was said to be sick when found by the officers and they allowed him to remain where they found him.

Since the above was written we learn that McLaughlin gave bonds for his appearance before the Recorder and that he will probably have an examination to-day.

PRIME PORK.—Upwards of 100,000 pounds of prime mess pork of Oregon production are to be shipped by the bark Whistler now in this port, destined for the San Francisco market. This amount will bring a very handsome sum of money into our State for one shipment of one article. Farmers have doubtless found it more profitable to feed their surplus grain to their hogs, than to sell it at the low figures it has been going at since harvest.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The most of yesterday in this Court was taken up in hearing the argument on exceptions to the report of the referee, filed in the case of R. E. Bybee, plaintiff vs. John Lillis et al, defendants.

The case of KUHN vs. KUHN; action for divorce, was referred to J. H. Stinson to take the testimony.

The Court adjourned until 9 o'clock A. M. to-day.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The semi-annual election of the officers of Minerva Lodge No. 19, I. O. O. F., held on Monday evening last, resulted as follows: N. Gottgetreu, N. G.; H. Guido Grob, V. G.; Julius Kraemer, R. S.; C. A. Alisky, Treas.; C. Wintsingerode, M. Koshland and L. Goodman, Trustees. The installation of officers will take place on Monday, January 3d, at the Lodge room.

COMMON SENSE.—Dr. Sloan will deliver a lecture on this standard subject at Oro Fino Theater to-morrow evening, which, we doubt not, will be replete with interest. The Doctor is rather a fluent speaker and in his oratorical flourishes sometimes outs pretty close about the ears of his opponents.

THEATRICAL.—We hear it talked on the street that Mr. Carter has engaged a celebrated actress in San Francisco for the Oro Fino Theater, and and that she will appear here about the middle of next month, by which time Mr. Carter expects to return with his troupe from Victoria.

NEW YEAR'S BALL.—We are informed that a dancing party will be held at the armory of the Emmet Guard, on next Friday evening. This popular military company usually have very pleasant parties, and the one in contemplation will doubtless be of the same kind.

STILL DOWN.—The telegraph wire has failed to do much duty for several days past. It was repaired at the break on Scott's mountain, yesterday, but was broken again at some point south of Salem. Our readers will need to exercise patience and wait for news from abroad.

STRANGERS IN TOWN.—An inspection of the various hotel registers in the city, shows that a very great number of strangers are now in Portland. The arrivals within the three days last past, amount to over two hundred, and some of the hotels are crowded full.

FUNERAL.—The body of Henry Howland, who died at the Infirmary of Dr. G. W. Brown on Sunday last, was buried yesterday. He was a stranger in Portland, having lately come here from Idaho on his way to California where he was going for his health.

WIND AND RAIN.—Yesterday was one of the windiest, rainiest days of the season. It blew a sweeping gale from a southerly direction during the most of the day. At times the ferry boat experienced considerable difficulty in making her landings.

REPORTED QUASHED.—It was reported here yesterday that the grand jury of Clarke county, W. T., had indicted the Van Vleets for an assault on Mr. Fletcher, at Vancouver, and that the indictment had been quashed by Judge Jacobs.

WEATHER AT THE DALLES.—Passengers from the Dalles yesterday, report mild weather east of the mountains. But little snow has fallen, and thus far the winter has been the most moderate of any for several years in that section.

JOHN AXTELL.—We obtained the following further information in regard to the man Axtell. He came from Janesville, Rock county, Wisconsin, in 1852, and has a brother residing twelve miles from that place at Rock Prairie.

CALLED.—Mr. S. P. McDonald, of Vancouver, made us a brief call yesterday. He is in fine spirits, as he has good cause to be, having very recently taken a loving partner in the voyage of life. May they sail smoothly.

INSTALLATION.—Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, quite a number of the Masonic fraternity went over to East Portland last night to participate in the installation ceremonies of Washington Lodge.

WILL INSPECT.—We learn from Col. Moores that the inspection of the O. S. N. R. R., East side, will take place on next Thursday, at which time the commissioners appointed will pass over the road and examine it.

UNITED STATES COURT.—A regular term of the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Oregon will begin on Monday, January 3d, 1870. His Honor M. P. Deady, Judge, presiding.

WILL STOP.—Owing to the low water in the Columbia, the boats of the O. S. N. Co. will cease running to Umatilla, the Tenino making her last trip to-day, until a rise in the river takes place.

CHINESE WOMEN.—A large crowd of Chinamen, hitherto employed on the railroad, came down on the boat from Oregon City yesterday.

UP.—The Wallamet has risen over forty inches within the past three days.

THE FINANCIAL VIEWS OF CONGRESS.—The St. Louis Democrat of Dec. 14th, has the following dispatch, dated Washington, Dec. 10th:

The first week of Congress ends with little indication of the financial views of its members. Senator Sumner has introduced a bill for free banking, with a clause limiting the increase of currency to fifty millions per year. Mr. Morrell of Pennsylvania has introduced one for free banking and a new loan at four and a half per cent.; and Mr. Ingersoll of Illinois has brought in bills for free banking, to prevent the sale of Government gold, and to authorise the issue of forty-four millions more in legal tender notes. None of these bills have been considered in committee, and it is doubtful if any of them will be until after the holidays. The idea of a free banking system has many supporters in both houses of Congress, and at present the indications are that such a system will be established during the session. Further indications are that Secretary Boutwell's recommendation for contraction at the rate of two millions per month will not find many supporters. The demand from the South for money appears to be very strung.

GENEROSITY is the noblest impulse of the human heart, and the gratification of it affords the sweetest pleasure. Cultivate them. Stone has the most elegant assortment of watches, magnificent sets of jewelry, napkin rings, plate, gold chains, lockets, necklaces, rings, sleeve buttons, etc.; just what everybody wants for New Year's presents.

OPEN IN THE EVENING.—Jackson, Sanderson & Co. will keep their store open until 9 o'clock in the evening until after the Holidays.

ACCIDENTS.—Immense crowds of people run away from their homes yesterday, made a direct break for the popular firm of Berman Bros., and pleased they were in find everything they inquired for in the line of Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, etc., etc., and not one left the store without being highly pleased with their goods and prices. Well—call again at the Odd Fellow's Temple Clothing Store, corner First and Alder streets.

The largest and finest lot of Ladies, Mink Collars, Muffs, Victorines; also, Children's Fur Sets, to be sold before the Holidays, at reduced prices, at the New York Store of M. Moskowitz, 125 Front street.

BOYS' CLOTHING.—Another addition to the already large stock of Boys' Clothing was received by Kohn & Fishel. They are really handsome and all custom made. There is nothing more appropriate or more serviceable for a Christmas gift to a boy, than one of those handsome suits. Kohn & Fishel's stock of clothing cannot be surpassed. An examination of their stock will convince all that their stock is the best and at the lowest prices

IMPORTANT NEWS.—To gentlemen who are married, those who are going to be, or those who would like to be: If you want to get a fine Suit of Clothing for the Holidays or to get married in, you can find them at very low rates by calling at Beck & Waldman's, corner Front and Washington streets, Portland Oregon

A Household Elixir adapted to all Climates.
It would be a happy thing for the world if all the excitants at present used in the practice of medicine, could be swept out of existence, and HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS substituted in their place. In California it seems possible that this desirable substitution may one day be accomplished. Certain it is, that the great VEGETABLE TONIC is gradually displacing them, and that the confidence of the people in its sanitary and saving properties, increases with every passing year. "Figures that cannot lie," show this to be the fact. No medicinal preparation enjoys the like popularity among all classes and conditions, in every section of the State. As an appetizer, a general invigorant, a remedy for indigestion, a cure for intermittent and remittent fevers, a gentle cathartic, a specific for flatulency and sour stomach, a gentle diuretic, a nervine, a blood depurant, a specific for sick-headache, a mild anodyne, and, above all, as a protection against epidemics, it is unquestionably the STANDARD MEDICINE of the whole Pacific territory. In the towns and cities it is literally a Household Staple. Mothers believe in it. They find it a "present help in time of trouble,"—a safe and pleasant remedy for the various ailments to which their sex is exclusively subject. Men believe in it, because it refreshes and invigorates the body and the mind and tones both without exciting either.

Rumsey has lately put into an improved galvanized Iron Pump, which is safe from rust. An improved Hand Fire Engine of great efficiency, is also on their list. The machinery in Rumsey & Co.'s Factory is of the most efficient kind, much of it being of their own invention, and is driven by an unfailing water power. They are now building a new factory, 64x65 feet, 4 stories. When this is completed they will increase their working force to 250 hands. The business carried on by this firm was established by Rumsey about 30 years ago."—Iron Age, New York. d14dtf

G. VANDERBERG,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 535 AND 537 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and Assortment of Spices.
The undersigned, who has always had confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, has nothing to justify the good name acquired by his goods, than the sale of which daily increases, the acknowledged superiority of his manufacture over all others here, and in the markets of the Pacific Coast, which are of higher price, evidence the rapidity of the sales, and every day he sees himself compelled to increase his facilities to meet the demand. By constant fair dealing and strict attention to business he has established a reputation for the genuine G. VANDERBERG CHARTRES COFFEE, which the public, patronizing upon it, should look for. This fact can doubtless be fully attested by the favorable opinion of those who have used it, and by the increasing sales of the article. Purchasers should be thus guarded against this imposition.

The Price of Truth.

Great truths are dearly bought. The common truth,
Such as neep give and take from day to day,
Comes in the common walks of daily life,
Blown by the careless wind across our way.

Bought in the mart and the current price,
Head of the bustle, the jest, purchaser the book;
It tells no tales of daring or of worth,
Nor perceives o'er the surface of the soul.

Great truths are proudly won—not formed by chance,
Nor waft'd on the breath of a summer day breeze;
But stamped in the great ateliers of the soul,
Hard buffeting with adverse wind and stream.

Not in the gentle mart, 'mid corn and wine,
Not in the merchandise of gold and gems;
Not in the world's gay hall of midnight mirth;
Nor 'mid the blaze of regal diadems.

But in the day of conflict fear and grief,
When the strong hand of God, put forth in might
Flows up the subsoil of the stagnant heart,
And brings the imprisoned truth-seeds to the light.

Wrung from the troubled spirit in hard hours
Of weakness, sickness, decadence of pain,
Truth springs like harvest from the well-plowed fields,
And the soul feels it has not wept in vain.

—Joan Plate.

HIS ACCOUNT OF THE OPENING OF CONGRESS—THE MEMBERS OF THE THIRD ESTATE.

(Washington Cor. (Dec. 6.) Cincinnati Commercial.)

The Solons have returned to duty, such as it is. They swarm and buzz about the floor before it is the Cave of the Winds like so many bald-headed beedles. I look down upon them from the gallery. I am no longer a priviledged person entitled to the floor. Since the Hon. Pigiron, of Pennsylvania, and the Hon. Puttyface, the great Michigander, complained to my chairman that his clerk was a sinful, lazy fellow and ought to be dismissed, I have declined the so-called honor of a clerkship. It gave one $5 a day, less the income taxes and admission to the floor. The latter was the only really desirable part. The air of the galleries is dephlogisticated by the poisonous breath of the law-makers below, who are spitting given to tobacco chaw the tooth-brush, and the foul gases settle about their seats until they threaten death or insanity.

The Cave has some scientific apparatus for ventilation. It is so admirably arranged that while the Solons freeze below at times, the people roast and perspire above. The only use of these galleries is during the winter to afford warming and sleeping places for the lobbyers. It is a heaven to Cuff. He sleeps on the weary hours, and blesses de Lord for de Republican party that gave him freedom and the galleries to doze in.

As for the third estate—the quill-driving fraternity, here have to report proceedings—the arrangements are about as ill-contrived as possible. While reporters gallery one can neither hear the lungs take in the subtle poison that injures them, parely eats the liver, and ruins the temper. One-half the ugly things written from this source come from this cause.

With all its ills the position is better than one upon the floor held through a clerkship. The solemn fat old asses, who, through some unhappy accident, find themselves on the floor as Representatives, usually regard a clerk as a student to serve the place of clerk, as a slave to feed and fan him provokingly.

It would be well not to set that said the Honorable Hoosier—Oscar M. C., to me last winter, "I will go to Washington, and if I find anything in my way I will run over it."

He proved to me like a catherian ox, as he is. He did not go as he would have done—and will hereafter do—to the bad place, but he did go in my fat, good-natured opinion, who drove into a Congressional road that is the envy of a forty-rodder a month. You know I am.

This Forty-first Congress is going to be a very tame affair. It is not an important body. There was [illegible] Congress before [illegible] under the [illegible]. They don't be very careful [illegible] of the Honorables below, [illegible] various heads ventured to creep [illegible] of the Cave or Sea [illegible] this paper returned it was moved from desk to desk of the brotherhood, and the article laughed at or [illegible] upon as something approaching [illegible] while the reporters, in their gallery [illegible] 3 [illegible] evidently the Hon. George Washington Humphrighead would appear with a stout stick in his hand, inquiring for the miscreant quill-driver, who would probably duck under the desks, and incontinently disappear.

[illegible] the two Georges Sawyer was [illegible] who. A dastardly driver of the quill saw the Five [illegible] retire behind the screen that shut off the lobby from the beer-hall of the House, and take from his coat-tail pocket a Lucretia Borgia vial, for adding a few drops of vermifuge to [illegible] sausages, with some corn pone, and opening a huge pocket knife, proceeded to carve the meats. The event was too great for description, and the fastidious writer of the past [illegible] it. Accordingly. In due time the Forty-first returned, and the Hon. Sawyer found himself changed [illegible] and the modest name of Sawage attached to his cognomen. [illegible] and, according to the gallery, [illegible] a sound drubbing. [illegible] survived the cudgeling to be shrewdly returned to Congress, that the honorable fightist passed to whatever sort of [illegible] better world, with the name of Savage irrevocably fixed to him.

I would like to see any honorable member try that on me. I don't mean eating that [illegible] pone, but [illegible] and peppered rubber called a bologna, but to pound a reporter or a correspondent. He would probably get well thrashed, and escaping that would find a nest of hornets about his ears, for these gentlemen of the gallery have the true esprit de corps that wakes all units in the defence of one. And the press generally would take up the matter, and pitch on the unhappy Solon as a brute.

Another reason why it is not wise to rise to a privileged question, and state his grievance. This, too, is [illegible] reporting of the offensive article and the offensive article generally. It is out [illegible] of laughter—for the Solons [illegible] the torturing of a fellow [illegible] for remedy is not resorted to, generally. The members content [illegible] to [illegible] saying one to the other, "What [illegible] fellows are these newspaper men [illegible]."

And [illegible] by, I wonder under Mr. Sp[illegible] who, however unsound he may be on the [illegible] and the reciprocity treaty, is [illegible] a gentleman and a quiet Speaker. He [illegible] reads knowledge that distinguished [illegible] predecessor, Thomas Jefferson, and [illegible] a quiet, easy voice commanding and yet courteous bearing, so that he is popular with all parties.

That Forty-first Minister Butler swings his pendulous body over his slender legs as he paces to [illegible] keeping one eye on the Speaker and the other [illegible] in the direction of this third, the robust Robert of the Ways and Means.

Gen. Schenck comes back more than ever the bull-dog set on end, and looks as if he would not stop [illegible] Tappertail-Mirabeau to any body else.

Garfield, with his boyish way, awakened body and mind we have heard, chatters familiarly with the members, probably explaining about that house so lately built, which Mack says indicates a sudden accession of wealth. Well, it [illegible] a small accession, for it is a very moderate house, like the captain's promenade, three steps and I happen to know all about it.

A warm friend and admirer of Garfield proposed to him that if he (Garfield) would purchase this little corner lot, he (the friend) would loan him money enough to build. The proposition was accepted and the house built. It cost $9,000. In Cincinnati it could have been built for $6,000. That is the whole story of "the house that Jack built."

The shadow of Henry Clay, in appearance at least, strikes in with gray hair and white mustache, and answers to the name of Fernando Wood. He sits bolt upright, with his coat buttoned to his chin, and says, "Sir," with an emphasis peculiar to a past generation of politicians.

The pugilistic gold-bullion member from New York, [illegible] of his duel of thinking. He has a private secretary, it is said, who is ready to make affidavit before any competent tribunal that John never did say anything.

Allison looks out of his deep set eyes with a feverish intensity so peculiar to him. I believe he is the only free-trader on the Committee on Ways and Means, just now making a blather about increasing the list of articles to be admitted free. Of course it is a swindle being manipulated by the Hon. Pigiron, the paid advocate, who is on the floor, looking as cadaverous, hollow, and hungry as ever.

Listen: the everlasting Brooks is on the floor. He proposes to have the Hon. S. S. Cox, formerly from the sunset, but latterly from the East, sworn in. Of course there is no earthly reason why little Cox should not be sworn in, but because it is Cox, and Brooks wants it, certain Republicans stand up and offer metaphysical objections. It is of no avail, Cox must come in, and, for one, I am very glad of it. He has no principles to speak of, and never knew what a conviction meant; but he is witty, and what the Yankees call smart. There will be music on the floor this winter, and the correspondents will be under obligations to the dextrous, acrobatic member.

Here come the Message and accompanying documents. Lord! Lord! what a waste of good wind! And nobody seems to care a continental! It is the dullest opening of Congress ever witnessed. The venerable gentleman who wrote "A Reporter's Experience Since the Days of Washington" says no such dull opening ever occurred before. The rings and lobbies are not here in force, but their representatives assure us that there will be soon a full attendance.

"Royal Snobs."—"What do you think of their Royal Highnesses, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Edinburg?" was the question put the other day by an inquisitive Yankee to a loyal Britisher.

"I think," answered he, "that they are as precious a bruce of snobs as ever disgraced a royal family. The Prince is a rake, a gambler and a drunkard, and if he ever lives to ascend the throne he will make another George IV. The Duke isn't any better, and it will be God's mercy if the third one of the batch don't sink to the level of his brothers."

"But how," continued his interrogator, "do you account for the fact that so good a mother as Queen Victoria should have such sons?"

"Because," was the response, "her very kindness has spoiled them. They have been reared to do pretty much as they please. Moreover, her Majesty has an unconquerable passion for gin and beer, and its too constant indulgence has weakened her faculties. When Prince Albert died she retired to Windsor Castle and drank so freely to drown her grief that she hasn't recovered from the stupefying effect of it yet."

"Well, well; who would have thought of it," moralized the Yankee, and this reflection will be re-echoed by many others. Can it be possible that the bitter attacks made upon her Majesty by the English press as the time of her withdrawal from all public life, were inspired by a knowledge of such weaknesses.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Dec. 27, 1869.

New York Gold quotations at 1[illegible]3/4@1[illegible] sales are 120 @120¾.

San Francisco Legal Tender rates 82¼@82¾.

Portland Legal Tender rates 82@82¼.

Trade throughout the country is dull, which it is thought, will be more manifest after the holiday season is over.

The schooner Alpha has arrived with a small cargo of Island merchandise and will commence discharging to-morrow.

The steamship Morse Taylor is about ready to receive freight for San Francisco, although she will not sail until the latter part of the week. She will take away a full cargo.

The Whistler and North Star are unloading. So our city wharves are crowded and [illegible] the appearance of dullness on the streets. Weather bad, with strong south winds and heavy rains. Telegraph line refuses to work. No late Eastern or California news.

Our merchants report prices unchanged.
